SHORT PARAGRAPHS.

—The last thing talked about in Paris is Gustave Dore's picture of "Titania." It is only a square foot of canvas.

—Senator Ross, it is said, requested Gen. Grant to exchange the Presidency for a foreign mission.

—It is supposed that Grant appointed Quakers as Indian Commissioners on account of their "naying." That was as near horse-talk as they could get.

—The Radicals prefer the negro to the white man. They are the persons mentioned in the Scripture who "choose darkness rather than light."

—The scamps who went from the North to the South to steal have been sent to Congress under Radical auspices as law-makers.

—The Hon. Lewis Dent, brother-in-law of President Grant has opened an office in Washington as a lawyer and general agent. Charges reasonable. No discount to office seekers.

—A religious paper in London announces that "Ned Wright," the converted burglar, will preach at Waudsworth Assembly Room, and break open the doors of hell with a gospel jimmy.

—A Leavenworth paper thinks it an "evidence of the Western march of civilization" that the Kansas Legislature appropriated $1400 for tobacco for the penitentiary prisoners, and only $300 for preaching the gospel to them.

—According to German statistics, more than 250,000 emigrants left Europe in 1868 to find homes in America. Of these, 120,000 embarked at Liverpool, 66,000 at Bremen, 44,000 at Hamburg, 20,000 at Havre, and about 2000 at Antwerp.

—Garibaldi is still undecided as to the title which his novel is to bear. The object of the work is to exhibit the corruption of the Roman Priesthood. He called it at first "Celia." Then he changed the name to "Roma Militante." But he is still dissatisfied.

—The Empress of Austria kissed, at Aram, during the recent journey of the Imperial couple through Crotia, one hundred babies. The Crotian children are very handsome, and the Empress expressed her delight and astonishment at the remarkable beauty of the little ones.

—Chicago is excited over the threatened loss of the grain trade, and is making earnest endeavors to have the railroad freights reduced to a point competitive with river transportation. Up to within a few weeks the efforts of the St. Louis merchants were rather sneered at, but the enthusiasm with which they have lately gone into the grain movement, creating in a few days a Protective Association with a capital of nearly a quarter of a million of dollars, has fully aroused Chicago to its danger. Various remedies and suggestions are made, but all hinge upon a reduction of railroad freights.

—The Washington correspondent of the Louisville Courier-Journal telegraphs the following to that paper on the 24th instant: To-day has been given up to quiet rejoicing in official quarters as the relief experienced from the office-seeking pressure of the last eight weeks. The President and most of his Cabinet have left town. The President went into the country early this morning and spent the entire day at a village called Laurel, where, it is understood, he met Gen. Lee and spent an hour in social converse.

—Rev. Michael Mullen, Assistant Pastor of St. Patrick's Church in Chicago, died Saturday morning, aged thirty-four. It is a strange coincidence that he died in the same house which has had the same fatal influence upon four priestly occupants within a period of about seven months. Rev. Patrick Dillon entered the house on the 13th of September, 1868, and died on the 14th of October following; his brother, Rev. James Dillon, took charge of the house October 14th, and died November 18th, following; Rev. Dr. Dunne died in the same house December 20th, thirty-two days after; and now, just four months after, Rev. Mr. Mullen.

—The detective police have recovered $500,000 of the registered bonds stolen from the Savings Fund in Philadelphia. None of the coupon bonds, greenbacks, or demands have been recovered. The bonds were returned by express. The total value of the property stolen aggregated close on to $1,000,000. Of that amount over nine-tenths was in bonds, about $15,000 was in cash, and $10,000 or $15,000 in diamonds. The strictly negotiable bonds were valued at close on to $70,000. The United States bonds, part of which are embraced in the latter amount, were valued at $400,000.

—A poor woman in England, the keeper of a market stall, seven years ago lost her little child under such circumstances as to convince her that a beggar had stolen it. All trace being lost, and the mother not having the means to command the services of the detective police, she gave up her business and became a traveling peddlar in the hope that somewhere in her tramp about England she might meet with the beggar and her lost daughter. At last her weary search has been rewarded; she has found her child, now nine years old, and the beggar has been taken in custody. The loss occurred in Liverpool, the recovery in Manchester. Such incidents as these, which occasionally come up in police reports, show how far is the imagination of novelists from exhausting the romance of the world.

—The Jackson Clarion of the 13th urges the business of preparation for the coming election. Let it be commenced at once, it says, on the highways and byways, in the workshops and on plantations. Our resident population who understand the law, should not leave to unfriendly parties the business of enlightening the uninformed on this subject. It urges also that the freedmen who voted against the Constitution at the last election, because it proscribed a large and meritorious class of whites, should be assured that if its provisions are submitted separately, the pledge will be redeemed not to oppose any measure, which disfranchises none, but will secure to all equal privileges in the exercise of the ballot.

—One of the oldest towns in Vermont is Isle La Mott, situated on an island of the same name, ten miles in length by three in width, in the middle of Lake Champlain, near its northern extremity, about ten miles distant from either shore, and containing about five hundred inhabitants. The large farm houses are built of stone and bear marks of great antiquity. Many of the inhabitants have become independent by patient tillage of the soil, which is rich and fertile. The principal productions are grain, fruit, pot and pearl ashes, maple sugar and beans. About five thousand bushels of the latter are produced annually, and one farmer makes about one thousand pounds of maple sugar. There are also several valuable blue stone quarries, one of which furnished the material for building the famous Victoria bridge at Montreal. During the season of navigation, the island is reached by means of a sailboat ferry, but a gentleman of Burlington visited it a day or two since by horse and sleigh, over snowbanks from three to six feet deep, and ten miles across the lake, on ice three feet in thickness. One year ago the farmers there sowed their grain in fields which are now covered with snow two or three feet in depth.

DEATH OF R. B. RANDOLPH

The Man Who Pulled General Jackson's Nose.

From the National Intelligencer of Tuesday.]

Robert B. Randolph, who had the misfortune to be dismissed from the navy by Gen. Jackson, without good cause, and who pulled the General's nose in vindication of his honor—Randolph's, and not Jackson's—died in this city on Tuesday last, at the age of seventy-eight years. The pulling took place in the cabin of a steamer which stopped at Alexandria on its passage down the river. Randolph went aboard, marched up to Jackson, who supposed he was confronted by a friend till the thing was done. Randolph got beyond the jurisdiction of the county police before a process could be issued, and escaped arrest.

The cities of the district were in a foam over the indignity, and the whole country, in fact, was for a time in a tempest, the triumphant Jackson party feeling that its own nose had been twisted by this audacious descendant of Pocahontas. Gen. Van Ness, then Mayor of Washington, sent a solemn message to the Councils on the event, and the boards responded in a solemn resolution of condolence and indignation. Randolph was a fugitive for a couple of years, and has since passed his life mostly in this District. The act maimed his prospects, and he lived and died in poverty. He was a cousin to John Randolph, and leaves a wife and three daughters and one son. Floyd gave him the superintendence of the Armory in this city, when he was Secretary of War, but the act aboard the steamer at Alexandria, some thirty years before, followed him, and Buchanan ordered his dismissal.

Randolph was a Lieutenant in the navy when dismissed, and had done good service under Decatur. He was a high-spirited, intrepid man, and maintained his dignity and his character to the last. The Intelligencer defended him when he was dismissed from the service, vindicating his character as a brave and upright man. The scene when Jackson, who was then President, found himself with a pulled nose, is described by those who saw it as one of stupendous rage.

MILITARY DESPOTISM.

A Reign of Terror in Marshall, Texas.

Correspondence of the Louisville Courier-Journal.]

MARSHALL, TEXAS, April 21, 1869.

Since I wrote to you, further arrests have been made at Jefferson. The military power, instead of relaxing its rigor, has increased in the severity of its treatment toward the prisoners and its exactions upon the people. Tyranny ever commences with caution, becoming more bold and insolent as it finds that it meets with no resistance. Despotism, ever insidious in its first movements, becomes more relentless in its progress. The town is overrun with detectives that even invade the sanctity of private dwellings, bribe servants and eavedrop at windows. Swaggering officers, "dressed in a little brief authority," strut with swaggering gait through the streets, and lord it over the people. Insolent negroes and drunken soldiers take up the sidewalks. Citizens no longer talk openly and boldly, but secretly and in "bated whispers." No man feels safe. To be incarcerated in the Bastile that has been erected involves pecuniary ruin, family grief, and what degree of humiliation will never be known until the persons now in it are relieved and allowed to speak with freedom. We have rumors that the sweat box and other means of torture have been resorted to. How much truth there is in these reports I cannot tell. Everything is managed so secretly, and such a terrorism prevails throughout the place, that it is impossible to find out. Men whom I know to be brave and true shrink with terror from the prospect of a personal interview with the horrors of this prison. One of the prisoners, however, has had the fortune and the boldness to smuggle out a letter, of which the following is a copy:

BUEL'S BASTILE, April 18, 1869.

Dear Friend: I write to-day in hope that through you our friends and relatives in the North may know of the infamy that is being practiced under the sacred banner of liberty. I have now been in the hands of the vampire, Geo. P. Buel, nearly three months. At one time there were nineteen men in the den with me, but one of them having been seized with bleeding at the lungs, and two others taken sick, and some of the officers making strong recommendations that it was impossible for the place to hold so many, our number has been reduced to thirteen. We are locked up at sunset and kept until reveille in the morning, and our suffering for want of air and from stench can better be imagined than described. Last night I was seized with vomiting, and am so weak to-day that I can scarely write. Another prisoner has bleeding of the nose from closeness of the air. Those of us who are not utterly too weak when we arise in the morning, ask each other: "Can it be possible such things can be done and not punished?" For my part, I love the Union yet, and cannot believe that the great soldier who rules our great republic knows of the doings of this insulter of women who built bridges during the war that braver men might cross over to light. There are thirty-six prisoners in all, and many of them are opposed to my writing about it, as they think Buel will treat them worse; but, for myself, there can be no worse fate than to be smothered to death like a rat. I only hope that the coward who has me in his power will give me the same fate that his minion Bostwick gave my lamented friend, Wm. Perry. It is unnecessary to say to you or the friends who know me, that I am innocent of crime to my fellow-man or the Government. To them I leave my record. ——— ———.

The fault of this man was not that he had committed any crime, or had done anything wrong, but he had spoken freely and unreservedly his sentiments regarding the murder of Mr. Wm. Perry by the notorious Bostwick and his soldiers, and had openly denounced the tyranny that prevailed in Jefferson.

—The Jonesboro Flag says a lady living at Johnson's depot, in Washington county, gave birth last week to three boys.

IN EXPLANATION.

John Russell Young Makes Confession.

He Reflects upon the Corrupt Press of New York.

The Evening Post of Thursday evening publishes the following letter from J. Russell Young:

To the Editor of the Evening Post:

I thank you for the spirit of your comments on the recent publications in the Sun. If the latter alternative proves true, the whole press will receive from this case a check to its influence, a stain on its character, the effect of which may counterbalance many years of upright and honorable labor of others in the service of the public. It will certainly now be more necessary than ever for all members of the press who wish to save it from disgrace to join, not in merely denouncing the imposter now exposed, but in keeping the rest of the profession entirely above all kindred suspicion. I am content to accept the judgment. What I have written, I have written; what I have done, I have done. I take the fullest responsibility, and do not write this in a way to escape from it.

I remember writing many letters. I do not remember writing others. I have not seen them. The person to whom they were written had been my schoolmate and friend. The friendship was broken by misconduct in a business interest, in which he had been placed by my influence. When he left I was menaced with two publications. I was told a small sum of money could suppress it. My reply was that I had written many things which I did not care to see printed. My letters to my wife, my diary, my correspondence generally, could not be made public without annoyance. I had written nothing which could make me lose the respect of any one who knows me. Of course I am sensible of the error of having had this correspondent. For that mistake I cannot make sufficient explanation. For twenty-five years I had looked upon him as a friend, when I should have known that he was merely a dog. I gave him confidence, personal association, generous bounty and charity, when to him essentially charity was precious. I should have tossed him the crumbs and bones from my table. That was my blunder. There are men who hold in our social economy the same relation which vermin hold in nature. I regret the same distinction has finally crept into the press. When any scoundrel has private letters to sell he may find a market in a New York newspaper. He will not only have them printed, but so dexterously arranged and clipped and commented upon, that matters which were never in his mind, and circumstances which never existed, will be made to appear as his life and speech; and though the simplest transactions in will be spoken of as crimes, and the courtesies of life will be held as glossing conspiracy and intrigue, if there are phrases which have no meaning, a meaning can be invented, and with an editor fertile with his pen, there is no limit to his invention. I do not believe in suits for libel as a general thing, but I have given the editor of this print an opportunity to explain and defend this transaction with private correspondence before a jury of his countrymen. Having done this, I have only to say there is nothing in these letters which I cannot explain whenever an explanation is proper. It is not proper here and now. This publication is part of a determined effort to drive me from the Tribune and press of this city. It is only the culmination of a conspiracy which has long been engendered. I am satisfied it has taken this shape. It has brought to me unexpected and precious evidence of friendship, and from no men more warmly, I am proud to say, than the generous, noble gentlemen with whom I am associated in business.

I am respectfully, your obedient servant,
JOHN RUSSELL YOUNG.

MASSACHUSETTS CIVILIZATION.

Atrocious and Brutal Treatment of Sailors.

From the New York Herald.]

In the Marine Court this week a civil lawsuit will be instituted in behalf of several seamen, whose story of almost incredible atrocities on shipboard we record below.

The Richard Robinson is an American packet. She sailed from Queenstown on the 20th or 22d of March. Capt. Robinson, who is from Boston, is of medium height, and aged about thirty years. The chief mate, Hoffman, who belongs in Williamsburg, is a beardless young man, aged about twenty-three. The crew of twenty-one men were taken on fresh in Liverpool in January last.

The ship having taken her cargo in Liverpool, was hauled off into the river on the 29th, and on the 2d of February she sailed for New York. The Captain having laid in several cases of liquor, he and the first mate drank themselves to intoxication, but remained comparatively quiet until they got out to sea. They then appeared on deck and interfered with the men's work, so that the crew were compelled to resist them. The two chief officers continued to drink until they became maddened. They were armed with revolvers and knives, and the sailors having nothing but their sheath knives, were powerless. The ship went on to Cusca, and then, owing to bad management, was "land-locked." Extricating herself after twenty-four hours delay, she put off again, but in compliance with an order of the inebriated captain, the engineer and carpenter cut away the "bob stay" with their axes to make an excuse for going back to Holyhead for repairs. In passing the breakwater near Holyhead, two of the crew named respectively Anderson and Sullivan, having been beaten so terribly by the Captain and Second Mate, leaped overboard to escape being killed. One of these men reached the shore and reported at the police station, but the Captain hearing that he was to be arrested, immediately ordered the ship to sea again. The Captain, determined not to proceed without his wife, stopped at Queenstown and remained there two weeks until his wife joined him, and the ship resumed her voyage. The Captain still remained night and day in the same state of mad intoxication, and his conduct toward the crew increased in brutality. He compelled the seamen to fight each other according to prize ring rules, until one gave up, when he would assault both of the combatants with clubs, etc.

Frederick Johnson, one of the seamen, says: "The Captain used to call us aft and cut off one side of our hair, tar our faces and hair, and then make us sing songs which they dictated to us. They stood behind us with a needle, stuck in the end of a stick, and when we would not sing they pricked us. The Captain frequently struck me on the head with his fists, on which were brass knuckles. He beat me several times a day almost every day during the voyage from Liverpool to Queenstown. My head was cut in several places, my eyes were blackened, my body bruised all over. The Captain used to take hold of the hair of my head and pull my face down almost level with his feet and then kick me in the face and body; he kicked me many times. The brass knuckles went on all the fingers of one hand. Each ring had a sharp point about one-fourth of an inch long."

Robert McDonald corroborates the foregoing testimony, and says: "The chief mate struck me on the back with an ironbound block weighing about thirty pounds, and beat me one night with his fists in the face."

Other seamen corroborate this testimony.

Another of the Captain and mate's means of pleasantly whiling away the time during this astonishingly drunken voyage was the hanging of the men. Brown says that he hid himself in the hold for days, because he was afraid they would kill him, and when he was found they tied him to the gallows and suspended him forty-five minutes, with his hands in irons, the irons cutting into his hands. His feet were about a foot and a half from the floor. His hands are still paralyzed.

A few days after leaving Queenstown the last time, the Captain's wife gained access to the stock of liquors, and dragging out two cases of whisky and one of rum, tumbled them overboard. She had constantly kept her eyes on the Captain, and many times when he was committing the outrages, and threatening to take the lives of the men, she interfered and checked him.

The men having threatened to have the two officers arrested as soon as the ship reached port, both the Captain and mate made good their escape before the vessel reached her wharf. The mate leaped off into the steam-tug soon after passing Quarantine, and the Captain escaped as soon as the ship reached her pier, and has not been heard from since.

The victims are now all more or less suffering from the brutal assaults perpetrated on them during this voyage.

A HURRICANE.

Tornado and Waterspout on the Ohio.

From the Louisville Courier-Journal of the 29th.]

From the officers of the steamer Leonora No. 2, which arrived in port last evening, we get information of a most destructive hurricane that swept across the country above Wickliffe's landing, thirty-five miles up the river, on Wednesday afternoon. While the Leonora was moored at the landing, about 4:30 o'clock, the pilot on duty saw two immense clouds come together a short distance off, rendered still more awful by deafening thunder and blinding lightning, rushed with indescribable fury across the river, just above the landing. Immediately on reaching the stream the fierce tornado lifted a great body of the water and hurled it along over the bank, deluging the vicinity and exciting the utmost terror among the people. The path of the hurricane was about one hundred yards in width. Throughout this track for miles on both sides of the river the devastation was complete. Houses, trees, fences, etc., were uptorn and scattered like straws in all directions. The air was densely filled with huge limbs of trees and other fragments, and the whole region of the storm was in a state of chaos. In the general destruction the dwelling of a Mr. Goeshler was blown down, and that of David Hogan was completely razed. In the latter house were four or five persons, all of whom were more or less injured. Sid Lee's barn and a new dwelling near by were unroofed. A lookout or station at the landing was blown entirely away. Although the Leonora lay some distance below the line of the main hurricane, all of her sky-lights were shattered, and the glass hurled into the cabin, creating a wild panic among the passengers. If the boat had been within full range of the squall she would have gone up the spout teetotally. The most skillful pilot could not have saved her. This terrible blast was followed by rain that fell in torrents and flooded the whole region around. It is difficult to estimate the extent of the injury suffered by the victims of this storm, but it is certainly very great.

SPIRIT OF THE AGE.

Divines, Lawyers and Churchmen all Masquerading.

A dinner party was recently given in Fifth Avenue, which was at once novel and distingues. The guests comprised eminent lawyers, doctors of divinity and medicine, men of letters, and members of the military and naval service. The host is widely known in both hemispheres as an accomplished scholar, a powerful theological controvertist and zealous churchman, and an ardent lover of the arts, belles lettres, and good cheer. His devotion to philosophy by no means interferes with his relish for the gayer amenities of society. Our social festivities and resources of recreation owe much to his happy invention. To him belongs, among other things, that of the recent graftings of the brilliant and graceful features of the Augustan age upon our social recreations.

The mene of this dinner was very choice, and was admirably seasoned with attic salt. As entremets to the tutti frutti and biscuit glace, there were placed before the guests, by the servants, a variety of mysterious sealed packages, resembling large mottoes. A very distinguished Captain of Mexican-war and novel-writing fame, was the first to attack the portentous little mystery before him. It unrolled with a report like a pistol shot. Other guests followed his example, and a succession of mimic thunders startled the company. Unrolling their packages, the guests suddenly found themselves in possession of a splendid set of character costumes ready to be donned. These costumes were of the lightest tissue paper, variously and brilliantly colored, tastefully ornamented with gold leaf and other materials. They represented a motley array of personages, characterizing diverse nationalities and classes of society. Being distributed among the guests at random, and each guest putting on the one he received, the most amusing contrasts were the result. The genial man of letters was transformed into a Suliote warrior; the reverend doctor of divinity appeared in a brigand's cloak and high-pointed hat; while the loose gown, night-cap and high top-knot of our grandmothers fell, of course, to the most dignified, proud and sensitive personage of the company. Harlequin, as luck would have it, came not to the soberest, but to a congenial spirit, able to keep the table in an incessant roar. The several characters not only ate in their costumes, but made speeches, wrangled, recited poems, enacting with great spirit and abandon the role of the moment.—Home Journal.

SOUTH AND WEST.

To the Owners of Real Estate in Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama and Arkansas:

THE COMPANY KNOWN TO THE PUBLIC as the "Mississippi Valley Navigation Company of the South and West," is organized under a charter from the State of Louisiana. This charter authorizes a capital stock of five hundred thousand dollars, with the privilege of extension to one million. That the public may know the exact object of the Company, the third article of the charter is given entire, as follows:

"The object of this Company is to construct or otherwise to procure and maintain one or more steamboats, or other vessels, to run on and navigate the Mississippi river, or its tributaries, for the purpose of carrying freight, mails and passengers; to construct docks wharves, buildings and such other constructions as may be necessary to the building and repairing of vessels, and generally to exercise such incidental powers and privileges as are hereby or may be conferred on them for the purposes aforesaid.

The Company propose, under the provisions of this charter to construct a line of steamers to run between the different ports on the Mississippi river and its tributaries. They will be constructed upon the low-pressure principle; they will carry less steam; they will make better time, and be in all respects more safe than any description of boats ever placed upon our waters. Divided into distinct compartments, if disaster, whether by fire or snags, shall happen to one, the boat is not endangered. In case of fire, apparatus for turning steam upon it will be provided, and it is demonstrated that steam is the most effective extinguisher of fire. In case one compartment is broken through by contact with snags, and fills with water, the others are not endangered, and the boat cannot sink, as pumps, provided for such an emergency, will be in instant operation. Safety to passengers and freight is a great end, worthy of the struggle of the people of the Mississippi Valley.

Nearly three hundred thousand dollars in money and work has already been subscribed to the capital stock of the Company. The Louisiana Legislature has passed a bill subscribing one hundred thousand dollars of stock to the Company. An additional sum of that amount will, without a doubt, be subscribed by the same body. The Company have resolved to take lands for stock, and this is the feature to which they desire to call the attention of owners of real estate. In the Southern States, on account of the disorganized condition of labor, lands are an incumbrance. Vast tracts that yield no revenue to the proprietors, pay exorbitant taxes, and thus cripple their only productive resources. This Company propose to take these lands at a fair valuation and issue to the owners their stock in lieu. If lands shall enhance in value, so will the stock enhance in value, and thus the land proprietor will carry in his pocket the equivalent of his lands, to be converted into money or property without delay. The success of this great enterprise is beyond question. The stockholder, in addition to the benefit of the enhanced value of his lands, will be part owner of a line of boats, and be entitled to dividends in their earnings.

Persons wishing to exchange lands for the stock of the Company will send to the Agent at Memphis a description of them, their productive qualities, the timber, bottom or upland; whether overflowed or not; if overflowed, what proportion; how near to county-town, to railroad, depot, river, and all facts necessary to afford the Company a satisfactory idea of the land. This may be done by certificates of reliable, disinterested persons residing in the neighborhood. The present actual value of the land may be proved in the same manner. The party offering lands must state in his proposition the lowest figures he will take. The Company will not give exorbitant prices. The titles must be unencumbered by judgments, mortgages, deeds of trust, tax titles, or otherwise. This may be shown by official certificates of judges, clerks, sheriffs, or the opinions of respectable attorneys. This is believed to be the best opportunity to dispose of surplus lands in the South and West that has yet been or can be offered.

Many of the best and wealthiest citizens of the South and West are warmly embarked in the enterprise. The General Headquarters of the Company are in New Orleans, but agencies exist in all the principal cities. The enterprise has been endorsed by Underwriters, Chambers of Commerce, Engineers, Mechanics, practical navigators, and all classes of practical men.

The foregoing facts are submitted to the public in the confident belief that they will be understood and appreciated.

BUTTER.

THE
ECONOMY BUTTER CO

Ask the attention of all interested in the reduction of the extravagant cost of Butter, to their practical and economical system of making pure prime Butter by aid of the

EXTRACT OF BUTTER PLANT.

A brief allusion to the origin of this important discovery may not prove uninteresting. Among the authenticated records of the renowned Captain Cook's voyage around the world, is found the statement, that while sojourning for a short time on the Brazilian Coast of South America, he observed the natives using, in the preparation of their food, a peculiar oil, which, upon examination, he found to possess the appearance, taste and flavor of Butter; upon further inquiry, however, he ascertained that it was simply a substance that the natives distilled in a crude and imperfect manner from a rich and luxuriant plant that grew spontaneously and abundantly in that warm tropical country. A few years ago an eminent French chemist, while on a professional visit to the tropics, made numerous experiments with this remarkable production of nature, and succeeded in extracting a concentrated essence of the plant. The formula for its preparation, and the Sole Right for the sale in this country are the exclusive property of this company, by whom it was purchased from the original discoverer. We claim for this remarkable, yet simple and perfectly harmless preparation—

1st. That by its use a net gain of from 50 to 200 per cent. is made in the manufacture of butter.

2d. That Butter, which from age or whatever cause, may be strong, rancid, streaked or coarse-grained, and comparatively useless for general use, by the aid of this Extract is restored to its original freshness and sweetness, fine grain and even color.

3d. By the use of this Extract, one pound of delicious, fresh Butter is actually made from one pint of milk.

4th. That a pure and excellent table Butter can be made, at a cost of from 15 to 20 cents per pound. The chief expense wherein being Butter, which is the essential base.

5th. That Butter manufactured by the aid of this Extract is equal in every respect to the best Butter made by the ordinary method.

6th. The Extract, after thorough analysis, by able chemists, is pronounced perfectly free from any deleterious substance, the ingredients being purely of a vegetable nature.

7th. In proof of the foregoing assertions, the factory of this company is making one ton of Butter per day, which meets with ready sale in the New York market, and is consumed from the tables of the first hotels, restaurants and private families in this city and elsewhere.

A sample package of the EXTRACT (sufficient to make fifty pounds of Butter), with full directions for use, will be sent to any address on the receipt of $1.

CAUTION.—As all articles of real merit are subject to spurious imitations, we would specially caution the public against counterfeits and worthless imitations, advertised as powders, compounds, etc., as the Extract of the Butter Plant is prepared and sold only by

MEMPHIS APPEAL

SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 1, 1869

ADVERTISEMENTS are taken for the Sunday and Monday issues of the APPEAL at special rates.

A CALL appears in the Knoxville Whig upon Col. JOHN B. BROWNLOW to become a candidate for Floater from Knox and Sevier counties.

THE SUNDAY APPEAL will be unusually interesting, a fact to be noted by our advertising patrons, who will find it an advantageous advertising medium. Send in your favors early.

THE Nashville Banner predicts that STOKES will be square out in favor of universal suffrage and no taxation without representation before the canvass is over, and that he will not abide the decision of the convention if it should not nominate him.

AS WE published the particulars of the conduct that lost JOHN RUSSELL YOUNG his position as managing Editor of the New York Tribune, we give place this morning to so much explanation as he has been able to put together in a short communication to the New York Evening Post. It will be found on our first page.

WE have been requested to notify delegates to the Brownsville Agricultural Convention to meet to-day at 2 o'clock, at the Chamber of Commerce, for the purpose of consultation upon subjects pertinent to, and that may be discussed by, the Convention. It is hoped there will be a full attendance.

GOV. SENTER is not yet completely inveigled by the sweet and loving cooings of our brother the editor of Brownlow's Knoxville Whig. As an evidence of it he has refused to act upon the suggestion of that paper and the junta at Knoxville, and will not call the Legislature together for the consideration and passage of the fifteenth amendment. This is wise in our Governor, and looks as though there might be some "come out" in him after all.

THE Nashville Banner says that the recent horrible and brutal outrage upon the Rev. JACOB SMITH, of the Methodist Church, furnishes occasion for the presence of the militia in Blount county. We think so too, and suggest to the Governor to recall the five companies in service in West Tennessee and send them to the East, there to supervise the murders of their neighbors and prevent such outcroppings of brutality as that upon Mr. SMITH, reflecting so disgracefully upon Christianity.

As in our first article on the Imperialist we announced on private information, it is now positively asserted that that paper is the organ of BORIE, Secretary of the Navy, and the Loyal Leagues. This accounts for its vituperation of the South and Southern people and its urgent pleas for the bondholders. It is a weak invention of the enemy and one that will recoil upon them with force when opportunity is afforded the Democracy to make use of it. We shall then look for letters and dispatches in the confidential vein of JOHN RUSSELL YOUNG, who, we suggest, should be employed as managing editor of a paper whose sole support is likely to be of a character similar to that vouchsafed the Philadelphia Post by SIMON CAMERON.

AS INDICATIVE of the interest taken in the Commercial Convention, we quote from the New York Daily Bulletin (a commercial paper of high standing) concerning the Southern Pacific Railroad, the great question, the paramount question for the consideration of that body. Our contemporary says: "That the Southern Pacific Railroad is to be built and built soon is one of the facts of the future, although Congress has denied to such a road even the right of way. It will be constructed, probably without the use of money abstracted from the pockets of the people, and it will accomplish for the South double what the other railroads to the great Western ocean will accomplish for their sections. The question of leveeing the Mississippi river and that of immigration are, it is said, to be taken into consideration by the Memphis Commercial Convention. Both measures are of great importance to the South, and both, we have no doubt, will be the subject of vigorous and enlightened action. The South, from causes which she could not control, has lost a great deal of time, and she must lose no more if she has the power to save it. We trust the Convention will meet the great questions of commercial interest to the Southern people in the proper spirit, and that every energy will be put forth to make it productive of benefit to the Southern States."

IT will doubtless astonish our readers to learn that the registration of voters in Shelby county has, up to this time, progressed in the ratio of two negroes to one white man. Admitting that in numbers there is a preponderance of the former over the latter, it is not sufficient to account for the figures on the Registrar's books. On the contrary, it is entirely owing to the remissness of the white voters, who, notwithstanding that an existing dullness in trade will permit of their absence from office or business house, refuse or neglect to perform what too many of them regard a favor for somebody (they do not exactly know who) but what is as much a duty as any of the affairs of life upon which they enter every day and prosecute with all the ardor and energy of their natures. If those so far derelict continue to act in this way, we may as well cease any farther effort for liberty and releasement from Radical domination and a grinding taxation, and confessing failure, give up to our enemies, to be held by them in perpetuity, all right and title to the administration of our public affairs. Complaints reach us every day of the terrible effects of Radicalism in our county and State affairs, and a fear, amounting to panic, has taken possession of not a few, that HUNTER may get hold of the Chancery Court; and yet, when a plain way out of our difficulties is given them, and a way to prevent the consummation of HUNTER's designs, these complainants and panic-stricken ones fail to avail themselves of it, or furnish even so much evidence as registration will afford that they are in earnest and anxious to assist in the good work for the consummation of which every Democratic and Conservative vote is needed. We trust this indifference will no longer continue to characterize our people. They must register. We urge upon our readers and upon the Democracy generally, to attend to this matter of registration, and to resolve that they will avail themselves of the first opportunity to do so, and urge upon their laggard friends the importance of performing a duty upon which may depend our salvation. Remember that one vote may win, and, therefore, all are important.

NEITHER the monumental marble nor the commemorative brass record the truth, patriotism and heroism of the Confederate dead. Theirs was a strife not finally crowned with triumph. No national treasury, plethoric with revenues wrung from an oppressed and overtaxed people, subsidizes the art of the sculptor to commemorate their martial prowess or perpetuate their patriotic virtues. In our ascriptions of honor to the now voiceless brave, who, neath the Southern Cross rendered up on an hundred battle fields their lives a sacrifice for principle, we use no terms of overwrought or prejudiced eulogy. The physical successes of war determine not the right or the wrong of a question. Much less can defeat affix a stigma, or rob of just respect those who fell in a cause sincerely espoused by them and maintained with knightly sword, though fortune failed to bestow the victor's wreath. Is Archimedes the less renowned because his superb engineering did not accomplish the final safety of Syracuse against the beseiging Romans? Who ever imagined that this distinguished geometrician left a dishonored name because he fell in the unsuccessful defense of his country by the sword of a brutal soldier? Has the name of Leonidas yet ceased to thrill the heroic verse with its highest inspiration because overbourne by numbers he sunk beneath myriad blows in the vain defense of Thermopylæ? It is worse than idle—nay, it is profanation to talk about treason when standing over the lowly graves of the brave followers of LEE, JOHNSTON, JACKSON and FORREST. In fact we, though not native to the South, recoil in disgust from the sickly platitudes about "treason and traitors," which, since the conclusion of the late civil war have fallen from weak and wicked tongues in malignant abuse of the South and her fearless soldiers. Was not each grey jacket the civil equal of each blue coat? Was not each Southern State the equal of each Northern State? Who dare say that those who rallied under the Southern banner were less sincere than those who mustered beneath the stars and stripes? Who was right the world has not yet undertaken to say. Impartial history, yet to be written, will possibly determine that question. As yet none have done more than dogmatise on the matter. The respective combatants were the equals, one of the other. There was no subordination of the one to the other. There was no room for moral treason in the premises. We question much if legal treason could be sustained before an impartial judge and jury. Therefore none but a coward would grudge the memorial tribute offered by the women of the South to the gallant dead, who periled all for their protection, and for the honor and rights of the South. Then let the floral wreath of our sunny clime yield to the fair hands of beauty the full treasure to wreath in honor the graves of the departed. To-day when we hall tread softly through the "bivouac of the dead"—the tear of sorrow shall mingle with the memorial chaplet.

A FEW days since we published from the Little Rock Gazette the statement that an injunction had been granted by one of the Courts of that city restraining the Radical Commissioners from issuing to the Little Rock Railroad Company $250,000 in bonds, then ready, the first installment of the aid granted that corporation by the State of Arkansas. We are reliably informed that the injunction, which came up for a hearing before two of the Supreme Judges, was dissolved on Thursday and the bonds delivererd to the Company, the affair being traced, we are advised, to a desire on the part of some parties in Little Rock, for "black mail." On account of the people of Memphis, no less than on that of those immediately interested in this road, we rejoice at so satisfactory a conclusion of what we feared would prove an embarassing suit. The construction of this great highway has already been delayed too long by litigations and quarrels, and feuds and embarrassments thrown in the way of its officers. It is necessary to us and no less so to the people of Arkansas that it should be completed, and we hope that no farther efforts of outside parties, under whatsoever pretence made, will be permitted to interfere with or retard the work. While in the vein we will impart another piece of gratifying information in connection with this railroad, that the bridge over the St. Francis river is nearly completed, and will, in all likelihood, be turned over to the company by the contractors next week; also that the steamer Converse has arrived at DeVall's Bluff with barges, men and material to be employed in the work of quarrying and transporting stone for the White river bridge, the construction of which will be commenced at once. This looks promising and encouraging.

FEARS have been expressed by many influential persons that the Committee on Finance will cease to work when they have accumulated $5000, considering that sum sufficient to defray the expenses of our approaching Commercial Convention. We trust these fears are not well founded. Indeed we have reason to believe they are not, as the gentlemen composing the Committee, or many of them, have had experience in such matters, and know that a meeting of so many influential men and the consequent festivities, cannot be conducted to a successful conclusion short of double that sum. It is true, that as well as their purses, our citizens will be expected to open their houses and their hearts, and expend a very wealth of hospitality upon the delegates; but beside that, which no doubt will be the most agreeable part of the reception that awaits our guests, there will be imposing and grand public displays, dinners and excursions—the expense of which cannot wholly be borne by transportation companies—and the ordinary and current expenses of the Convention itself, which will be in the end no small item. All this will require money, and plenty of it. It will not do to go upon "promises to pay." The folly of that course has already been tested in Memphis on more than one occasion, when committees have been left with the bag to hold, and to bear about with them most disagreeable remembrances of citizens whose memory was so treacherous as that they could not remember obligations to pay made, perhaps, only twenty-four hours before. The Committee owes it to itself, no less than to the citizens at large, that they set their figures beyond any failure, and then collect in dollars (not promises) every cent, and place it in one of our banks to their credit, to be disbursed on their warrants, as occasion may demand.

The address is signed by forty delegates, among them the Turkish Ambassador to Prussia. The Conference has ordered copies of the proceedings to be sent to America with the address.

PUBLIC SALE —OF— SUBURBAN LOTS —ON THE— MEMPHIS AND CHARLESTON RAILROAD.

We have the pleasure of announcing that several owners of the lands fronting on the MEMPHIS AND CHARLESTON RAILROAD, in view of the growing demand for residences on this favorite Road, have authorized us to OFFER AT PUBLIC SALE, about

ONE HUNDRED LOTS,

Varying in size from 5 to 20 acres, extending along the whole railroad front—the Buntyn, Trezevant and Breatnitt Tracts, embracing the Flag Station at the old Race Track on Trezevant Avenue, the Park Station, Buntyn's, and the Raleigh road crossing, at Mr. Grier's. The lots offered are immediately at and around the different Stations, none of them being beyond the distance of a few minutes' walk.

Fine health, pure well water, and comparative exemption from mosquitoes, are some of the great advantages held out by this neighborhood over a city residence, while the economical advantages in the cost of ground are yet greater.

Referring to the quick transition from city to country, from business to retirement, and the precision with which time may be divided between business avocations and domestic life, it has become at least important, if not indispensable to the perfection of a country home that it be on a line of Railroad, and within half an hour's time of the conveniences and advantages of a city. All these are pre eminently found in the lands embraced in this sale. The proprietors are willing to meet purchasers upon the most liberal terms, and will offer these lands for a greater or less cash payment, and on long or short time, as the parties may desire, though it will be desired and expected that purchasers will, in every case, buy with a view to immediate improvement and occupation.

Plans of the property will be shown at our office.

The sale will take place on the premises on THURSDAY, 13TH DAY OF MAY.

Persons will be carried to the sale on special trains from the Memphis and Charleston depot.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

—More rain more grass.

—The Hunterites have a grand pic nic to-day somewhere in the "scrububs." Old crim. con. will address them.

—A profusion of flowers was brought to the city yesterday on all the roads, to be used in the memorial decorations to-day.

—Among the operas promised us by the Brignoli troupe when they arrive are Don Pasquale and Il Barbiero di Seviglia.

—The room of Mr. G. B. Wray, No. 2, Bank alley, was entered yesterday morning and robbed of a gold watch worth $60. Two negro women are suspected.

—The mosquito question seems to be vexing our morning and evening "contemps." Now we want our laurels. We killed that first mosquito—don't care who saw him first, we killed him.

—We are sorry to learn that our friend and confrere Col. D. M. Wisdom, of the Jackson Tribune, is slightly ill at the Peabody. He will be around, however, in a day or two.

—Registrar Williams publishes a notice that on and after this date he will give no man a certificate of registration on the recommendation of a candidate for office.

—Col. Kinloch Falconer, of the Holly Springs Reporter, Col. Alcorn, of the Friar's Point Delta, Col. Mose Parrish, of the Bolivar Bulletin, and Dr. Connaughten, are at the Peabody.

—The Directors of the Tennessee Mechanical and Agricultural Association have determined to offer prizes and premiums to the amount of $10,000 at their first fair, which will take place next October.

—The continued rains have thrown a gloom over everything and everybody. Yesterday was the fourteenth or fifteenth day of the spell, and the rain didn't look like it had the remotest idea of quitting.

—We are indebted to W. J. Mansford, of the Catholic Bookstore, 308 Second street, for a copy of the Workingman's Advocate, a paper devoted to the producing classes. Mr. Mansford is the sole agent for it in this city.

—Although it has only been a month since the Odd Fellows Hall in Canton was burned, the Order in our midst will be glad to learn that another hall is already going up. The new building is said to be of most elegant design.

—John Lewis, colored, engaged another darky named Sol Wilkins, in conversation yesterday, and inveigled Sol into showing him a $20 note. As soon as Sol pulled the greenback out of his pocket John snatched it and "put." He was arrested afterward but got away.

—Mr. T. W. Doyle has received an official communication from F. Renehan, Secretary of Civil Affairs of the Fenian Brotherhood, that Gen. John O'Neill, President Fenian Brotherhood, will be in this city and address his fellow-countrymen on May 13th, (Wednesday week).

—To-morrow will be Rogation Sunday, the fifth Sunday after Easter. It is the commencement of the rogation days—Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday before Holy Thursday. The word Rogation is from the Latin rogatio, asking, from the gospel of the day which teaches how to ask God, so that we may obtain that which we seek.

—The sun managed to break through the heavy banks of clouds in the west yesterday evening and for a half hour before setting, shone with a gorgeous and dazzling splendor. The wind sprang up from the northwest about that time, and the temperature decreased at least ten degrees. At writing the skies are clearer than they have been before in two weeks, and there is every prospect of a clear and beautiful day for the first of May with its ceremonies.

—The total number of arrests made in the Second district for the month ending last night was 260. Of these fifty-seven were State cases, 121 were tried and fined, and eighty-one discharged; $1180 were assessed in fines, $790 in mittimuses issued, but only $480 55 were collected; $870 worth of property was recovered and returned to its owners. There were four accidents (counting the spring-gun shooting as one), and three fires in the district.

—A couple of well known negro burglars, named Bill Addison and Charlie Smith, went to the house of another negro named Tony Weaver, on the Hernando road, yesterday morning, and completely gutted it, taking $20 in money, a lot of clothing, all his provisions, corn, coffee, sugar, flour, meat, etc., his shot gun, pistols, etc. Tony came in town, as soon as he found it out, completely frantic, and has been hunting for the "black willins."

—Wickersham was turned out of another office yesterday—this time by the United States Marshal. He was the lessee of the block of buildings on the south-east corner of Jefferson and Third streets, which belong to the United States Government. Having forfeited the terms of the lease, by dropping in arrears for rent, the United States Marshal took formal possession of it yesterday in the name of the Government.

—The attention of our fashionable ladies who belong to the Catholic Faith is called to a late pastoral letter of the Holy Father, in which he invites all "Christian mothers and daughters of Mary" to form a league against the doing up of chignons and the arranging of tresses several times a day, which occupies the time that should be devoted to religious duties, pious works, and family affairs.

—The Bonham (Texas) News, of the 16th inst., says, in speaking of the El Paso and Pacific Railroad, that the road is under contract from Paris to Palo Pinto, a distance of 150 miles; and a branch road from Jefferson to Paris is also under contract, the work to commence the first of May, and forty-five miles will be finished the first year. It is also expected that work will commence at Paris simultaneously with the Jefferson end of the road, and that the road will be rapidly pushed forward.

—We have nothing against the game of base ball when played at the proper time and the proper place, but we most respectfully beg leave to enter our protest to the game as played by gangs of lazy, idle boys, of both colors, around our principal streets and thoroughfares. "Ball time" has come around again, and we noticed parties like those we speak of, yesterday, batting away in Main, Beal and Causey streets, to the imminent danger of show windows and annoyance of passers by.

—Mr. G. A. Henry, in a letter to the Clarksville Tobacco Leaf, again warns the people of Tennessee against a woman who calls herself Mrs. O. C. Andrews, and represents herself as an authorized agent to travel and solicit donations for the Tennessee Orphan Asylum. This female impostor has been traveling through the Southwest, and has obtained subscriptions to a large amount in Memphis, Cincinnati, Louisville and New Orleans. She has no connection with the Asylum whatever. The attention of editors, officers of railroads and steamboats and hotel keepers is called to this notice.

—Many friends of the Little Rock Railroad, not conversant with the facts in the case, imagine that the officials of the road are now under injunction, and that consequently affairs are not so prosperous as they might be. This is an error. There was a fiat of injunction granted to certain parties, but this fiat was contingent upon that party giving bonds in a certain large sum—a contingency of which there is not the remotest possibility or probability. Hence the injunction is a nullity, virtually.

—As the four o'clock train on the Memphis and Ohio Railroad was leaving the city on Thursday, a negro named Bartlett Corbin, whom Sheriff Curry had sent out to deliver some documents to Mr. Priddy at Union depot, got on board and being drunk, was very obstreperous and insisted, with oaths and obscenity, on going into the ladies' car. The Conductor, after in vain trying to keep him quiet and make him go in his own portion of the train, put him off. The ejection was done with as little violence as possible—not half what the black scoundrel merited. For this, at the instigation of white Radicals in this city, we learn that a suit has been instituted against the conductor and railroad company for $20,000 damages! We hope that "Mr." Corbin and his backers may get the damages, and that we will live to see it—if we do we will not die in the flower of our youth anyway.

—The Nashville Banner and Union and American in commenting upon, and correcting the statement made by several papers—the APPEAL among the number—to the effect that "it will be two or three weeks before the Nashville and Northwestern Railroad will be in running condition from Nashville to Hickman," wonder how the statement gained currency, or where it originated. It appeared first in the local columns of the Press and Times of Nashville, whence we copied it. We suppose other papers got it from the same source. We are happy to say there is no truth in it. The road was fully repaired, and trains commenced running through on Sunday last.

—There is in the possession of one of the editors of the APPEAL a quarto black letter volume, entitled "Les Tapisseries du Roy," and bearing the date of Augsbury, June, 1680. It is a collection of copperplate engravings of the original designs from which the celebrated tapestries of Louis XIV. were made, and although executed nearly two hundred years ago, when the art of copperplate engraving was in its infancy, these pictures, forty in number, are marvelous works of art. The series consists of eight large engravings, twelve by sixteen inches, representing the four seasons and the four elements, and thirty-two vignettes—four for each larger plate. The text is in French and German, and is of itself a curiosity. The book is in its original binding, and is very little worn, having evidently been very highly prized by its former owners. To a bibliophile it is of great value, both on account of its intrinsic worth and also its rarity. There are but two other copies known to be in existence, and neither of these is in a perfect state of preservation.

—The Little Rock Republican has carefully compiled a table showing the amount of unsold swamp lands in each county in the State. It foots up the enormous aggregate of 1,163,200 acres, as follows:

THE COURTS.

CRIMINAL COURT.—Wm. Hunter, Judge.—Court convened half-past ten o'clock. After the reading of the minutes the jury in the Doran case was brought out and Gen. Sale resumed the argument in behalf of the State. After briefly recapitulating the material points touched upon in his argument Thursday evening, he proceeded, in his usual unique manner, to portray the facts as adduced from the witnesses and expound and exhaust the law applicable to the case. He took the position that the defendant, Doran, was not entitled to the protection which the law gives a man when assailed "in his own domicil or castle;" that this point, in maintaining which the defense attaches great importance, could not be entertained, was not tenable, from the fact that Doran had been the aggressor from the beginning; that by the publication of the more than infamous card he had superinduced the deceased to come to his domicil, had laid await for him, and thus consummated his deep laid villainous scheme by a base, dastardly, cowardly act of assassination. Gen. Sale continued with his argument for more than three hours, making a most powerful and effective speech, surpassing, it is thought, all former efforts.

During the above argument, and throughout the whole trial, the prisoner has appeared supremely indifferent, seemingly giving himself no concern as to the final issue. In person he is tall, standing six feet or more, rather sparely built, dark, swarthy complexion, black piercing eye, dark hair, with mustaches and chin whiskers, and withal a handsome man. His countenance indicates passion, and wears at times rather a dark, malignant expression.

Sitting in the midst of his counsel, six in number, with three on either side, he looked as if he thought, judging from the occasional smiles that would flit o'er and light up his face, that he was already once more ensconced within his "castle," free and safe from the hand of the law. It was only in the course of Gen. Sale's argument, when some sharp, stinging reference would be made as to him and the fair nymphs who graced his board and shared his woes and joys, that he would manifest any particular interest; then his eyes would flash, and his dark, pale cheeks tinge and redden as if struggling with passion.

Gen. Sale was followed by Col. Kerr for the defense in an able and eloquent speech. During his argument, and as the hour of adjournment approached, a discussion arose as to the propriety of an adjournment for the week, it being impossible to close the case before Sunday, and to give all persons desirous an opportunity to attend the ceremonies at Elmwood to-day. His Honor, the Judge, with the approval of counsel engaged, consented to adjourn Court until Monday morning, which was accordingly done. Monday morning Col. Kerr will resume his argument and be followed by Col. Young for the defense.

LAW COURT—H. S. Lee, Judge.—The case of Moore & Co. vs. Oliver & Co. and Bescher & Schultz was resumed yesterday, and Judge Ellet made the opening argument for the plaintiffs, Mr. Edgington following for the defendants. To-day Judge Barbour Lewis will continue the argument in behalf of the defendants and Judge Henry G. Smith will conclude for the plaintiffs. This is a suit, instituted by the plaintiffs to recover fifty-four bales and two sacks of cotton, levied upon by attachment by the defendants, Oliver & Co. and Bescher & Schultz, in the hands of one Peacock, a St. Louis man, to whom Oliver & Co. and Bescher & Schultz had advanced supplies.

On Monday morning the motion docket will be called, and at 12 o'clock Monday the regular call of the trial docket will be resumed, beginning at No. 1615

MUNICIPAL COURT—Geo. W. Waldran, Judge.—Court met yesterday as announced, and proceeded to dispose of the regular business before it. In case No. 1929, Coyne vs. Heynes, the jury failed to agree and a mistrial was entered.

3168 Balke vs Robbins & Co., judgment for plaintiff, $1524 70.

3143 Lippincott & Co vs Mitchell, judgment for plaintiff, $1302 57.

3150 Lunsford vs Sharp, judgment for plaintiff, $195 30.

1845 Hunner vs Goebel, new trial granted.

No Court to-day. Monday will be motion day. Court will also sign bills of exception and attend to all other matters incidental to an adjournment for the term. Appeal bonds must be executed by Monday evening. Parties interested should govern themselves accordingly.

BANKRUPTCY COURT—T. J. Latham, Register.—The attention of attorneys interested is called to the following cases, which are suspended for informality:

Charles J. Smith.
B. B. Wilson.
William Wesche.
Eugene Michot.
John D. Coffee.

SHOT!

Spring Guns vs. Spring Chickens

The Radical Party Lose a Vote

We are tempted to give a little bit of biography here, in commencing this mournful story, just to show that "the way of the transgressor is hard" and that "evil communications corrupt good manners;" but as time and space are precious, we won't do it. For what we would have said, see almost any book in the various Sunday School libraries.

Anthony Glover was a colored gentleman. He read the Post regularly and associated with Judge Hunter and Jimmy Gallagher, and that was what ruined him. He went to a Hunter meeting Thursday night, and stayed there until midnight, and he heard Jimmy Gallagher talk. His ideas on the subject of meum and tuum, never very bright, got confused at Jimmy's harangue, and he left the meeting feeling like stealing something.

Being hungry at the time, his thoughts naturally were directed toward something to eat, and he remembered the locality of a certain chicken-house full of luscious poultry. Stewed chicken and fried chicken danced before his mind, and in fancy he snuffed the aromatic smell of chicken in all styles.

At No. 137 Elliott street lived Mr. Tom Lockwood. It was his chicken coop that Mr. Anthony Glover was thinking of. Strange to say, Mr. Lockwood had already had considerable thought about just such fellows as Mr. Glover, and had planted a spring gun in that coop so that the door could not be entered without exploding it. Mr. Glover did not know this, of course. The coop was easy of access, and the chickens were known to be fat. The temptation was too great for him. He went to his domicil, got a coffee sack to put the chickens in, and took with him a little crowbar, or a poker, to pry out the hasp which held the padlock.

Thus armed he went down to the yard, and straight to the front door of the coop. There was "no foolishing" with him, but he forthwith rammed his poker into the staple, gave a pry, and out it came. With eager hands he pulled at the door, and got it open nearly wide enough to enter, when he saw a flash close to him, and heard a roar like a thousand cannons exploding; myriad stars danced before his eyes. He felt something hot tearing through his breast, and he realized that he was shot! He turned and jumped over the fence close at hand and tried to run, but a darkness, a thousand times darker than that of the night, came over his eyes and he fell.

Meanwhile the sound of the gun aroused the people of the house, and Mr. Lockwood came out and found that his trap had caught his game, and that instead of losing his chickens he had a dead darky on his hands.

This was about quarter past one o'clock. He immediately went to the nearest station and notified the police, who went to the place, but none of them knew Mr. Glover. Yesterday morning Coroner Samelson held an inquest on the body and returned a verdict of "died of the chicken pox," and exhonerating Mr. Lockwood.

During the morning a dusky female came, among many others, to look at the body. She took one look, uttered a piercing shriek and fell into the arms of a policeman. When she came to she explained that the defunct darky was her fiance, and told his name. The story brought tears to the eyes of the policeman, and so affected him otherwise that he forgot to pay for two drinks he took immediately afterward.

The last we saw of the widow, Jimmy Gallagher was trying to persuade her to sue Mr. Lockwood for damages, and trust the case to him, giving him fifty dollars in advance to take charge of it. She was a little hysterical and simply murmured, "Tis as it is, now, and couldn't be no tizzer." She, however, offered to marry Jimmy if he wanted to, then and there, and keep the suit in the family.

ARKANSAS.

More Radical Rascality Unmasked.

A Sweet-Scented Scalawag Postmaster.

A Pet Appointee of Clayton's is Arrested for Robbing the Mail, and Arson.

We learned last night the details of as pretty a piece of systematic rascality as we have heard of in some time—being the exploits of one W. D. Barden, the Radical postmaster at Madison, Ark.

This Barden, who, it appears, is a Tennessee scalawag, was recommended by Clayton for the postmastership of Madison in 1867, and got the appointment. Revelations recently made show that he had hardly got warm in the office before he began plundering the mails, and the practice thus begun continued up to the 15th ult., through a period of over two years.

Our informant did not give us the whole modus operandi of his detection, but it appears that he had long been suspected, and some weeks ago the new administration determined to appoint one Groghan to the position and give Barden his walking ticket. The appointment was sent on by mail, but Groghan never got it, and Barden continued to exercise the functions of the office. This was the clue which caused the arrest, which was made by the United States Marshal on Monday last.

As soon as Barden was put in durance his house was searched and many evidences of guilt were discovered. Among other things an old coat was found, in which were envelopes and parts of letters running back to the spring of '67.

The marshal, not being thoroughly posted in the law pertaining to his duties, released Barden on bail.

While he was around town, on bail, a house belonging to a former deputy of his was burned under such suspicious circumstances that the arson was immediately charged to him. Several things, indeed, point most conclusively to him, among other things a peculiar shoe-track, made by the incendiary, was recognized as his. He was consequently rearrested on Thursday (day before yesterday) on charge of arson. Since his second arrest he has made a full confession of his guilt in the matter of the robbery, and admitted that he was preparing to run away and forfeit his bonds when he was arrested the second time. He will be examined next Wednesday, when we will give our readers a full report of the proceedings.

FEARFUL TRAGEDY.

Bickerstaff, the Partner of Cullen Baker, "Sent Up."

The Deed is Done by "Ex-Rebels."

The Last of the Arkansas and Texas Desperadoes.

Some few months ago we gave an account of the hunting down and shooting of the notorious Cullen Baker, the desperado, who, with his confederates, so long held Southern Arkansas and Northeastern Texas in terror, and levied tax red handed upon the people of both States. We mentioned at the time that but two more of the gang remained—Ben Bickerstaff and Thompson.

We have now the details of the tragic end of these two men, with whom perish the last vestige of the once powerful band of Cullen Baker. We take them from an "extra" issued by the Waxahatchie (Texas) Argus of April 9th. They are as follows:

Ben Bickerstaff, universally known in Northern Texas as the master associate of the late Cullen M. Baker, and Thompson, latterly the most active, energetic and fearful accomplice of the former, met with a horrible and unexpected death at Alvarado, Johnson county, on yesterday evening (8th inst.) at about sunset. The particulars of the tragic occurrence were recounted to us this morning by Mr. A. G. Barnes, in the presence of Messrs. David and John Myers, all of whom are citizens of Alvarado, and were participants in the terrible affair.

Bickerstaff and Thompson had been residing for some months near Alvarado, and it was their custom to visit the place late in the evening, and during the night to institute a carnival of robbery and other crime. Bickerstaff had assumed the name of Thompson, and was known to the mass of the community by that name. But it appears that a few individuals knew his real name. Time passed, and the criminals became bolder and their outrageous acts grew to be more unbearable. Consequently, on the fatal evening mentioned, the good citizens of the village prepared themselves with shooting apparatus for the purpose of ridding their community of these, the greatest pests they had ever known.

The hour at which the desperadoes usually visited them, approached, and with it came the parties for whom they so anxiously looked. A feeling not unmixed with anxiety and pain was depicted upon every face. The men rode up to the horse rack and dismounted, and as soon as they had alighted a shower of death dealing leaden balls was directed at them. Thompson was killed instantly, and Bickerstaff was struck in three places. Notwithstanding his frightful and mortal wounds, one of which either burst the ball of his right eye, or so contused it as to render it entirely sightless, he fired two well aimed shots at his adversaries, one ball passing through the clothes of one of his antagonists, and a shot striking a gun in the hands of another. He then fired several shots at random, showing, while even in the clutches of death, the desperate and unconquerable spirit that had attended him all along through his career of crime. When he was prostrated upon the ground, and his adversaries were gathered around, he exclaimed, "You have killed as brave a man as there is in the South." He was disposed to be communicative, but he failed to get any interested or attentive auditors.

Thus passed from earth a man who had, doubtless, steeped himself in crimes as heinous and foul as are known in the annals of this country, and the instances of his lawlessness are, perhaps, only second in number to those of his former chief and master spirit, Cullen M. Baker; and that merely by reason that the latter was more inveterate in the business.

Thompson had been a citizen of Alvarado—having lived there, we believe, as a respected citizen for about two years. He was seduced into the vicious career, upon which he had entered, by Bickerstaff, a man who was then already well advanced on the highway of crime.

We learn that some arrests of citizens of Alvarado have been made, it being suspected that they were accessories of Bickerstaff and Thompson. We forbear to mention names, as the parties have been highly respected, and as there is not yet proof positive of their connection with the deceased.

NEW MEMPHIS.—The farewell benefit to our funny man last night was indeed a rouser. In spite of the weather, which up to sunset had been execrable, the house was the largest of the season. There was scarcely standing room, and everything went off splendidly. The plays were Jessie Brown and Jenny Lind—Mrs. Cline singing in the latter her popular medley first sung in the White Fawn. The velocipede tournament was very funny and brought down the house. To-day at the matinee Jessie Brown will be given, and to-night is the benefit of the door-keepers and ushers. These gentlemen have been faithful servants of the public and merit a good house at their hands. Go and give them a lift.

FRED WILSON'S MINSTRELS.—If everybody did go to McWade's benefit, not a few also found their way to the Greenlaw Opera House to witness and hear the merry doings and sayings, songs and comicalities of Fred Wilson's minstrels. The Trip Around the World—Mr. Strauss' great dioramic and panoramic cosmorama—is most heartily enjoyed. The orchestra of this troupe is one of its pleasantest and best features. Under the Lamppost, which took so well when the troupe were here before, is still a drawing card, and we defy anybody on earth not to laugh at Laura stopping the down train. There is a matinee today at two o'clock. Go and see it.

An Absolute Safeguard.—Invalids, broken down in health and spirits by Chronic Dyspepsia, or suffering from the terrible exhaustion which follows the attacks of acute disease, the testimony of thousands who have been raised as by a miracle from a similar state of prostration by HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, is a sure guarantee that by the same means you too may be strengthened and restored. But to those who stand in peril of epidemics, to all who, by reason of exposure, privations and uncongenial climate or unhealthy pursuits, may at any moment be stricken down this paragraph is most particularly and emphatically addressed. You, who are thus situated, are proffered an absolute safeguard against the danger that menaces you. Tone and regulate the system with this harmless medicinal Stimulant and Alterative, and you will be forearmed against the maladies whose seeds float around you in the air unseen. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are not only a standard Tonic and Alterative throughout the United States, but they are accredited by the certificates of the most distinguished citizens of the Union, to the people of all other lands. In Canada, Australia and the West Indies, they are gradually taking the place of all other stomachics, whether native or foreign, and as surely as truth is progressive and demonstration overthrows doubt, they will eventually supersede every other Invigorant and Restorative now employed in medicinal practice.

DR. LIGHTHILL,

FROM NEW YORK CITY,

Author of "A Popular Treaties on Deafness," "Letters on Catarrh and Kindred Diseases of the Mucous Membrane," Etc., Etc., will be professionally in

Memphis, Tenn., from Monday, May 3d, until June 1st, during which time he can be daily consulted at the PEABODY HOTEL.

The practice of Dr. Lighthill is exclusively devoted to the relief and cure of CATARRH, DEAFNESS, IMPAIRED SIGHT, DISCHARGES FROM THE EAR, CONSUMPTION, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, and all diseases of the HEAD, THROAT and CHEST He refers with pleasure and pride to the extraordinary success which has attended his system of treatment in New York City during the past fifteen years, and during his professional sojourns in Cincinnati, St. Louis and Louisville, and recently in Nashville, Tenn.

Below he submits, with confidence, a few of the many flattering credentials which he has received from some of the most reliable and well known sources in acknowledgment of benefits received. Many more of a similar nature, and from equally reliable sources, may be seen at this office.

From Geo. D. Prentice, Esq., Editor of the Louisville Journal.

DR. LIGHTGILL—DEAR SIR: I am sorry to learn that you contemplate leaving Louisville at the end of the present week. I earnestly wish that your engagements elsewhere might permit you to remain here for a time longer.

Your sojourn among us, Dr. Lighthill, will be long remembered by our people. It has been a blessing to many. You have treated me and a female member of my family with great success. You seem to understand, as by intuition, the character of a malady and its best remedy. You have a multitude of patients in this city, and I have not seen or heard of one to whom you have held out the promise of relief without rendering it. Your entire practice among us has been a brilliant success, and I cheerfully recommend you to my many friends South, and the public at large, as a physician deserving the utmost confidence.

Hoping that you may live long to be a blessing to additional thousands of the afflicted, I am, very truly, yours,

GEO. D. PRENTICE.

From E. A. Collins, Esq., of Milan, Tenn.

TO EDITORS OF THE AVALANCHE:

GENTLEMEN—Dr. Lighthill expects to visit your city soon, and for the benefit of the suffering I wish to say, through you, to your very extensive acquaintance in this and other Southern States, that Dr. Lighthill can do all for the suffering that can be afforded by skill, science and a comprehensive experience.

I placed under his treatment, over two years since, my niece, Miss Eliza Mitchum, of McLemoresville, Tenn. She had been suffering from a child, with a rising in the head, which had for years emitted through the ear a very ugly and offensive corruption. Her case had been treated by the best physicians of the country, and had baffled the skill of them all. Dr. Lighthill kept her under his immediate charge for ten days and then sent her home with remedies. She used the remedies as directed, and in three months was entirely well, and still continues in excellent health.

It may be proper to state that when Miss Mitchum went under Dr. Lighthill's treatment she was unable to walk, and, as her friends thought, was rapidly approaching death.

If you have any friends among your extensive acquaintance suffering with any chronic disease, you may safely recommend them to Dr. Lighthill. Yours, very respectfully,

E. A. COLLINS.

From Capt. Silas F. Miller, Proprietor of the Galt House, Louisville, Ky.

TO MY FRIENDS AND THE PUBLIC:

It affords me great satisfaction to be able to testify to the success of Dr. Lighthill in the treatment of deafness, and express my sense of obligation to him.

My hearing had been impaired for a number of years, at times to such an extent as to embarrass me seriously. Dr. Lighthill, under whose care I placed myself, has removed the difficulty completely, and restored me to perfect hearing. SILAS F. MILLER.

From Dr. W. S. Reid, of Franklin, Tenn.

SUBSTANTIAL TESTIMONY.

Editorial from the Republican Banner, Feb. 2

We publish with pleasure the accompanying testimonial from Dr. W. S. Reid, respecting the success of Dr. Lighthill in the practice of his profession. With Dr. Reid we are well acquainted, and there is no man in Tennessee whose statements are entitled to more credit. A citizen of great worth, and himself a physician of high standing, he is fully competent in every respect to judge of the competency of Dr. Lighthill to do what he proposes:

FRANKLIN, Tenn., February 19, 1869.

DR. LIGHTHILL: The case of ear disease in my family, lately treated by you, was one of some twelve or fifteen years duration, involving, as was thought, a total destruction of hearing in the ear affected. It gives me pleasure to bear testimony to the rare skill with which you performed a necessary operation, as well as the judiciousness of your subsequent treatment, which has resulted, I am happy to believe, in the entire cure of the disease, and as complete a restoration of hearing as the case admitted of. Respectfully,

W. S. REID, M.D.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL,
MEMPHIS, April 30, 1869.

FINANCE.

The financial condition of affairs remain unchanged and very quiet in almost every particular. Stocks and bonds are scarce, and the demand for them is not very eager so far as we can learn. One dealer who had some stock of the Hernando Insurance Company was anxious to sell at 25c, but buyers were not willing to pay over 22 or 23c, at which rate it would have sold readily.

Money is easy, and not in much demand at 9 to 12 per cent. upon good collateral.

Exchange is also easy both in buying and selling. All of our banks are well supplied, and rates are steady.

City Scrip is firm and scarce, with an improved demand. Our brokers generally are not well supplied—many of them being entirely out, and the expectation is that scrip will advance. We quote a sale of $8000 to-day to a dealer at 78c.

County Warrants and Police Scrip are dull and nominally unchanged.

It may be proper to say that one or two discount houses take first class cotton bills or bank exchange upon New York at 1 10 discount.

Gold opened in New York to-day at 134⅛, advanced to 134⅜ at noon, and closed at 134½. Sterling exchange steady at 109½ for prime 60 day bills. Money on call 7 per cent.

Governments at the opening were generally firm and active, with indications of a clique in 62s and 67s. They became bearish on the noon call, and closed dull but steady in tone.

COTTON.

The Liverpool market at the opening to-day was firmer, with Uplands 11¾d, Orleans 12⅛d. There was no change at noon, and closed quiet at opening quotations. Sales for the day 10,000 bales.

The New York market opened with a fair demand, and prices firm; Low Middlings 27½@27¾c, Middlings 28½@28¾c, Good Middlings 29½@29¾c. There was no change at noon. At 2 p.m. it was also unchanged, and closed without any change whatever—the demand being fair throughout. Sales to spinners, 1355 bales; to speculators, 340 bales; for export, 740 bales.

In this market there was a fair inquiry, and sales to the amount of about 800 bales at irregular rates. One lot of Low Middlings of a good style was taken early in the day at 27½c. Towards the close holders were asking ¼ to ½c higher, and no tables of Middlings could be found at less than 27¾ to 28c. In fact it was said that 27¾c was realized during the day for some small lots of a good style. We quote:

The Liverpool weekly statement is as follows: Sales, 54,000 bales. Of this amount 9000 were taken for export, and 6000 on speculation. Stock on hand 351,000 bales, of which 168,000 are American. Stock afloat 487,000 bales, of which 182,000 are American. Compared with last week this shows an increase of 4000 bales in sales. TRADE.

Business was dull to-day in the general markets, and prices about as they were yesterday. The Dry Goods market does not seem to pick up any as the season advances, or rather as time rolls on, for, so far we have had no seasonable weather, and no one has been reckless enough of their health to appear upon the streets in light clothing. The Eastern markets are very dull, and prices weak on some goods.

Boots and Shoes are quiet but firm. The demand is not as great as was anticipated, but a very heavy business has so far characterized the season, and for a few weeks, or until the demand for light summer wear sets in, we look for but little improvement.

We noted the sinking of a flatboat load of potatoes at our levee one day this week. The cargo was saved in a wet condition and sold to-day at auction. Of the 1500 barrels the boat contained some 400 barrels sold in lots of 100 barrels at 45c per barrel, and the balance, nearly 1100 barrels, were taken by one party at 35c per barrel.

The Directors of the Tennessee Agricultural and Mechanical Association met in Nashville on the 27th inst. to fix the premiums to be awarded at the State fair next fall. They only succeeded in partially arranging the premiums. The list will be completed at their next regular meeting. Ten thousand dollars in premiums will be offered, and the Directors intend making the fair one of the grandest exhibitions of the kind ever held in Tennessee.

The Paris (Ky.) Citizen states that unusual activity has prevailed at the various bonded warehouses in that city during the last few weeks, holders paying taxes upon their whisky and withdraw it from bond. From the 1st to the 27th of the present month the tax on whisky withdrawn from bond at Paris amounted to $238,268 40. In addition to this there were thousands of dollars tax paid by large dealers on whisky held by them in other counties. The large amount required to pay the tax has caused an unusual stringency in the money market.

There is a good local demand for choice eating APPLES at 8 to $10 per barrel.

In BUTTER we make no change. Choice is steady at 35 to 40c in small packages.

There is a good supply of BEANS on hand, and prices are irregular. Mixed White, 2 50 to $3 per bushel; Navy, 3 to $3 50.

The demand for PROVISIONS is light, and holders firm. We quote Mess Pork, 32 50 to $33. Prime Mess 29 to $30. Prime Pork 27 00 to $28 00. Rumps 26 to $28. Jowls $24. Clear bulk Sides 16½ to 16¾c. Clear Rib 15¾ to 16c. Rib Sides 15 to 15½c. Shoulders 12¼ to 12¾c. Bacon, clear Sides 17½ to 18c. Shoulders 13¾ to 14c. S. C. Hams, plain, 18½ to 19c. S. C. canvassed 20 to 21c. Lard, in tierces, 18½ to 19c; kegs 19½ to 20c; caddies 20½ to 21½c.

The COFFEE market is steady, and stock very good, with only a light demand. We quote ordinary to choice Rio 19 to 26c; Java 34 to 35c.

The stock of CORNMEAL is fully equal to the demand, and prices are weak. We quote fresh on levee, $3 35; delivered, $3 50 in round lots; Kilndried, 3 60 to $3 65—25c higher by single barrel.

There is a good demand for DRIED FRUITS of all kinds. Dried Apples, 10 to 12c; Peaches, 12 to 13c.

EGGS are in fair supply, and prices weak at 16 to 17c per dozen.

The FLOUR market remains dull, with only a light demand, and mostly for low grades. We quote Fine at 4 75 to $5 25. Superfine 5 50 to $6 25; X 6 50 to $7; XX 7 50 to $8 50; XXX and Fancy brands 9 to $11.

There is no movement in FEED. Corn is held in store at 77 to 80c, while a lot on levee would not sell at over 75c. Oats are dull at 70 to 71c. Bran scarce; retailing at $1 50 per 100. Hay firm at 27 to $28 per ton.

The HIDE market is dull and prices weak. Green 9 to 9½c; Salt 10½ to 11c; Dry Salt, 19c; Dry Flint, 22c.

Cape and Alabama LIME held at 1 75 to $2 per barrel. Utica 1 75 to $2. Louisville Cement 2 50 to $3.

SUGAR and MOLASSES are steady and supply fair. Fair to Choice Yellow Louisiana 13½ to 16c; Yellow and White Clarified 16c. Molasses 65 to 90c as to quality.

The PRODUCE market is dull. Peach Blow Potatoes are in some local demand for eating at 2 25 to $2 50 per bbl., but all seed potatoes are weak with prices nominally 1 50 to $2 per barrel. Sweet Potatoes in good supply at 1 to $1 25 per bushel. Onions scarce at 6 50 to $7 per barrel.

POULTRY is scarce and high. Turkeys, 20 to $25; Geese, 8 to $9; Ducks, 6 to $7; Chickens scarce at 7 to $7 50.

In LIVE STOCK we have just learned that stock yard quotations are not to be relied upon. Hogs are dull at 7c gross. Beef cattle of good quality are scarce, and one well known butcher informs us that he has men out in the interior who are unable to buy at 10 or 11c. Inferior grades are dull and nominal.

The stock of SALT is fair and prices are steady. Large Dairy, in seven bushel barrels, $4 50. Small Dairy, in 5 bushel barrels, $3 50. Large Common, in 7 bushel barrels, 3 30 to $3 50. Small Common, in 5 bushel barrels, 2 50 to $2 75. These are quotations in lots from first hands.

There is a moderate jobbing trade doing in manufactured TOBACCOS and prices are steady.

The demand for low WHISKIES remains moderately active and prices weak. Highwines 90c per gallon.

THE CROPS.

We have frequent inquiry from St. Louis, Cincinnati and Chicago business houses concerning the fruit prospects throughout this section. They all express a desire to purchase largely this season. We solicit information upon the subject from our readers. A subscriber writes as follows:

HICKORY PLAINS, ARK., April 28, 1869.

Editors Appeal: The season is backward, weather cold and rainy. Early planting of corn looks fine—generally good stands. Early planting of cotton coming up very irregularly. There will be some twenty per cent. more cotton planted here than last year. The fruit crop promises a good yield. Though a light snow fell yesterday, it will not damage the fruit. J. F. W.

Virginia wheat crops are generally most promising.

The corn crop of southwestern Georgia is as fine as ever known at this season of the year.

Grasshoppers are destroying the corn in Texas by wholesale.

The crops of West Tennessee have been washed out by the rains, and in many sections corn which was up has been destroyed, and the weather remains too much unsettled to replant. It is safe to say our crops in this portion of the State are behind from three weeks to one month.

The wheat crop in Fulton county, Ky., is splendid, and more land planted than for many years previous.

Planting is greatly retarded throughout Mississippi by the copious rains.

RIVER MATTERS.

WEATHER AND RIVERS

GAS WORKS, April 30, 1869.

River rose 2 inches in past 24 hours
Below high water mark 1 foot ½ inch.

CHAS. GOODWIN.

Our next will no doubt report the swell here at an end, and then we can send out the cheering news that all danger has passed away.

Our midnight dispatches give the latest news from above, while we also give the latest mail news. White river is rising rapidly, with all its tributaries on the rampage. The Arkansas is rising. The Cumberland is falling with ten feet on the shoals.

The Helena Clarion of the 28th ult. says: "The river at this point this morning is six feet five inches below high water mark, the same point of the late rise, and rose about two inches in the last twenty-four hours."

The St. Louis Republican of the 29th says: "The river at this point is about at a stand. The upper Missouri is reported low and falling, while the lower Missouri is rising. The Illinois is falling, with plenty of water for steamboats. The upper Mississippi will be falling to-day.

The Democrat says: River rising again slowly. Good depth of water for full steamboat navigation reported at all points, except in the Missouri, which is troublesome below Kansas City as well as above St. Joseph.

The Cincinnati Commercial says: Here the river has fallen 20 inches during the 24 hours ending last night, with 23 feet 7 inches in the channel at 6 p.m. To day there will be 79 feet under the Covington bridge for passing steamers.

From various sources we compile the following:

DUBUQUE, IOWA, April 28.—River rose 3 inches in past 24 hours.

QUINCY, ILLS., April 28.—River on a stand; 12½ feet above low water mark.

ROCK ISLAND, April 28.—River on a stand.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Business on the levee dull.

The tow boat Dick Fulton No. 3 passed down yesterday.

The Ben Campbell now runs between here and Mound City.

The remains of Geo. L. Ely, clerk of the ill-fated G. A. Thompson, arrived yesterday on the Will S. Hays from the Arkansas. The corpse will be forwarded to Cincinnati by the Clifton. The body was found and only recognized by the mark upon his clothes. The clerk of the Hays charged $10 freight to this port, and would not deliver up the corpse until the freight bill was paid.

Garrett Huls, clerk of the Guidon, arrived from Pine Bluff yesterday on the Ozark.

By a card in another column it will be seen that the Geo. W. Cheek will hereafter make tri-weekly trips to Friar's Point.

The Linton, Capt. Les Ware, will get away to-day for all points on the St. Francis river. She is an excellent packet. Ed. Dutton is chief clerk.

The elegant City of Cairo, Capt. J. W. Malin, with H. C. Corbyn and Clem Nolte in the office, leaves to-day at her usual hour, for Cairo and St. Louis. Sam Weaver, at the Memphis and Charleston ticket office, sells tickets over this line of packets for all points North and East.

The unsurpassed passenger steamer Belle Lee, Capt. A. McGill, will pass up to-day for Cairo and St. Louis. No finer steamer floats than the beautiful Belle, and to travel upon her is a life long pleasure. Adolph Martin and Mr. Broughton are her capable, popular and efficient clerks.

The elegant steamer Liberty, with Capt. Conley on the roof, came in yesterday with a good trip from White river, and leaves again to-day for Augusta and all way points on that stream. She is the best packet in that river, and belongs to the "old reliable" U. S mail line of which Capt. Davis is Superintendent. In her office will be found Jimmy Thompson, Jim Rowland and Charley Sharpe, all reliable and popular officers. The Liberty connects with the Fairy Queen for upper White river and with the train at Devall's Bluff.

The fine and fast steamer Ozark, Capt. Blaisdell, will get away to-day for Pine Bluff, Little Rock and all way landings on the Arkansas. She connects closely with the Fort Smith packets and is altogether a desirable passenger packet. Ad Storm and Jim Saulsbury do the honors of the office in their own agreeable way, and are very attentive to guests. Don't forget the Ozark.

The Australia passed down yesterday, and added a few boxes of merchandise here for South America. The Courier-Journal gets off the following ridiculous sketch of her course and destination: "From New Orleans she takes salt water a distance of more than 1400 miles, through the Gulf of Mexico, the Caribbean Sea, and into the North Atlantic Ocean, keeping along the coast of Venezuela, Guiana and Brazil to the mouth of the Amazon. She will proceed along the latter stream to where Madeira river empties in, and then up the Madeira to Magdalena river, in Bolivia. The last named river is navigable for 500 miles or more, and she will remain in that trade." Our cotemporary must burnish up his ideas on geography. The Magdalena river empties into the Caribbean Sea, within a few miles of Carthagenia, and not more than 200 miles from the Isthmus of Panama. It is not in Bolivia at all, but runs through the State of New Greneda, or what is now termed the United States of Colombia, and is the principal outlet from Bogota, the capital. The Courier man sends the boat into the North Atlantic Ocean, the rivers Amazon and Madeira, past Venezuela, Guiana, etc., which is all bosh.

The Clifton will get away to-day for Cairo, Louisville and Cincinnati. She is an excellent packet and we hope will get a good trip. Capt. Stein is master and Geo. W. Hunter is her popular clerk.

The Marble City, Capt. A. J. Carter, with Henry Dientrich in the office, leaves to-day for Vicksburg and the bends. She is an excellent passenger packet and makes all way landings.

TRUST SALE.

Trustee's Sale.

BY virtue of a deed of Trust to me executed by Dominic Zweifel and George Waechter I will, on Saturday, the 22d day of May, A. D 1869, on the premises, at the Eagle brewery, lately carried on by Zweifel, Hargan & Co., proceed to sell at public sale, to the highest bidder, for cash, the following described real property, to-wit: The said Dominic Zweifel and George Waechter's undivided two-thirds in a lot of land lying in the county of Shelby, State of Tennessee, and the city of Memphis, described as follows: Beginning at the east side of an alley between Poplar and Bass streets, commencing at the South line of Geo. Waechter's lot and running South on said alley thirty-two feet; thence eastwardly seventy-five feet; thence southwardly again one hundred and twenty-six feet, more or less, to the bayou; thence eastwardly seventy-five feet; thence northwardly one hundred and fifty-eight feet, more or less, with Nicholas Huppert's line; thence westwardly one hundred and fifty feet with George Waechter's line to the beginning, it being the same lot of land sold to Geo Waechter by John P. Schlocker, 28th October, 1863 and part of lot sold to George Waechter, by Nicholas Huppert on the 6th day of April, 1861. Also the said Zweifel & Waechter's two thirds in the barrels, casks, kettles, engines, mashing machines, cool beds, malt mill and wagons employed in the brewery of Zweifel, Hargan & Co.

The undivided third part of George Waechter will be first sold, and if that does not bring sufficient to satisfy the said trust, then the undivided third of said Zweifel will be sold.

The title to above described property is presumed to be good, but I sell only as trustee.
JAMES BACHMAN, Trustee.

And at the same time and place I, the undersigned, assignee of said Dominic Zweifel, bankrupt, will proceed to sell the equity of redemption of said Dominic Zweifel in and to the above described property. Terms cash.

WATCHES.

WALTHAM

Watches!

THE extensive use of these watches for the last fifteen years by Railway Conductors, Engineers and Expressmen—the most exacting of watch-wearers—has thoroughly demonstrated the strength, steadiness, durability and accuracy of the Waltham Watch. To satisfy that class in all these respects, is to decide the question as to the real value of these time-keepers.

More than 400,000 of these watches are now speaking for themselves in the pockets of the people—a proof and a guarantee of their superiority over all others.

The superior organization and great extent of the Company's Works at Waltham, enable them to produce the watches at a price which renders competition futile, and those who buy any other watch, merely pay from 25 to 50 per cent. more for their watches than is necessary.

We are now selling Waltham Watches at less prices in greenbacks, than the gold prices before the war. There is no other manufacture of any kind in the United States of which this can be said.

These time pieces combine every improvement that a long experience has proved of real practical use. Having had the refusal of nearly every invention in watchmaking originating in this country, or in Europe, only those were finally adopted which severe testing by the most skillful artisans in our works, and long use on the part of the public, demonstrated to be essential to correct and enduring time-keeping.

Among the many improvements we would particularize:

The invention and use of a center-pinion of peculiar construction, to prevent damage to the train by the breakage of main-springs, is original with the American Watch Company, who having had the refusal of all other contrivances, adopted Fogg's Patent Pinion as being the best and faultless.

Hardened and tempered hair-springs, now universally admitted by Watchmakers to be the best, are used in all grades of Waltham Watches.

All Waltham Watches have dust-proof caps, protecting the movement from dust, and lessening the necessity of the frequent cleaning necessary in other watches.

Our new patent stem-winder, or keyless watch, is already a decided success, and a great improvement on any stem-winding watch in the American market, and by far the cheapest watch of its quality now offered to the public.

To prevent imposition, buyers should invariably demand a certificate of genuineness. No watches retailed by the Company.
